Sen. Tower Views Fighting

Viet Cong Stayed To Fight

SAIGON (AP) — Fierce fighting raged in bamboo jungles 40 miles northwest of Saigon Monday, and while it was going on a member of the U.S. Senate's Armed Services Committee flew overhead in a helicopter.

Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., watched American fighter-bombers, helicopter gunships and M48 tanks pound about 200 North Vietnamese entrenched in "spider" holes and other fighting positions covered by thick bamboo.

The senator's helicopter was not fired on, a U.S. spokesman said.

The battle raged for seven hours until dark "when the remaining enemy evaded and withdrew" the U.S. Command said.

Reasons For ABM Keeps Changing Says McGovern

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leading Senate opponent of President Nixon's missile defense program says the administration keeps changing its reasons for building the controversial Safeguard system.

"We have had a whole series of rationalizations for Safeguard from the administration," Democrat George S. McGovern of South Dakota said. "They keep changing them all the time. Now it seems to me they are escalating the terror rather than giving us any enlightenment."

McGovern commented in an interview shortly after Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird told a group of European reporters visiting the Pentagon Monday that the Soviet Union is testing a triple warhead for its big SS9 rocket.

Mail Boat Begins 75th Season

DETROIT (AP) — The J.W. Westcott II, the Detroit Post Office's mail boat, takes to the water Friday to begin its seventy-fifth season.

The boat handles about one million pieces of mail a season. It makes over 14,000 deliveries a year, about 2,000 of which are to foreign vessels. The river station has its own zip code number—48222.

U.S. Avoiding Peru Showdown

LIMA, Peru (AP) — The United States and Peru have avoided a showdown for the time being, but major problems remain for both governments because their dispute still hangs fire.

For Peru the problems are economic-continued stagnation while hesitant foreign investors wait to see how the dispute is settled.

For the United States it is a matter of the perennial Latin American distrust of the big neighbor. While Washington has not applied economic sanctions, the threat remains, and Peruvian resentment against the "Yanquis" likely will grow and harden.

A showdown over the expropriation of the International Petroleum Co., a subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey, was deferred Monday when Washington announced IPC would start proceedings in Peru against the Lima government's claim for $690 million from the company.

A U.S. announcement said this procedure, together with current negotiations by special U.S. envoy John N. Irwin, constituted the "appropriate steps toward compensation" required by the Hickenlooper Amendment.

The economic sanctions thus were deferred pending the outcome of the IPC's appeal to Peru's Ministry of Energy and Mines. The ministry must rule on the case and leave time for a further appeal if necessary to President Juan Velasco by Aug. 6, six months from the day the huge IPC debt was alleged by Velasco.

A Peruvian communiqué said the revolutionary government "understands that while this situation lasts, credits which for some time have been suffering restrictions will be normalized." But American sources said they knew of no such assurance being given to the Peruvians.

Consumers Power Workers Strike

JACKSON (AP) — Some 5,200 Consumers Power Co. utility workers walked out early today after new contract talks ground to a halt Monday. Picket lines were reported forming across the state.

Following a final meeting, in which federal and state mediators presided, the opposing sides described the situation as an "impasse."

Inspects Tank

The 43-year-old senator spent most of Monday afternoon with the 25th Division on the third day of his tour of Vietnam. He is scheduled to leave Wednesday.

Tower also visited the division's patrol base Mahone II, about 45 miles northwest of Saigon, the scene of heavy fighting in the opening days of the Viet Cong's spring offensive, which began Feb. 23.

Tower's helicopter also set down near the Boi Loi Woods where he inspected the controversial Sheridan tank, which first went into combat in mid-February.

Lt. Col. Robert S. McGowan of Washington, D.C., told Tower that some modifications are being made on the new weapon but he said it is an outstanding fighting tank and is generally well accepted by the troops and command.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., has said the tank has so many defects it is unsuitable for the war in Vietnam.

State Will 'Suggest' Execution For Sirhan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The state will not press for the death penalty for Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, the assassin of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy—but will suggest it would be appropriate.

"We won't, in so many words, say to the jury 'bring in the death penalty,'" said Lynn D. Compton, chief deputy district attorney. "It's rarely productive in our opinion to stand up and insist or demand that a jury return a certain verdict in this kind of case."

"We're going to suggest to them that it would be an appropriate penalty if they think so and leave it wide open to their discretion."

Last Witness

The last witness in the three-month-old trial, psychologist Leonard Olinger, was on the stand when court adjourned Monday. His cross-examination was expected to end by noon today and attorneys said they would spend the rest of the day discussing jury instructions with Judge Herbert V. Walker.

Heart Donor Medically Dead 48 Hours: Cooley

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Haskell Karp, the man who had survived 65 hours with a mechanical heart, was reported today to have developed pneumonia.

"Mr. Karp has developed a patch of pneumonia in the right lung and his kidney function is depressed," the hospital bulletin said. "He remains responsive but is tired. Doctors are hopeful he will respond to medical management."

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The woman whose heart was given to a man who survived for 65 hours on a mechanical heart was medically dead for 48 hours before the transplant, says Dr. Denton A. Cooley.

Haskell Karp, 47, who received the donor heart here Monday, was listed in satisfactory condition in St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital.

Cooley, the 48-year-old surgeon who performed both operations on Karp, said Monday night in Detroit that the donor, Mrs. Barbara Ewan, 40, was medically dead 48 hours prior to the operation.

"She had complete brain damage and had no reflexes whatever," Cooley said. "She had been supported by extraordinary means."

Heart Massage

Cooley said Mrs. Ewan suffered cardiac arrest eight blocks from St. Luke's and she required heart massage to keep the organ functioning until the operation.

Mrs. Ewan of Lawrence, Mass., was flown here on jet ambulance flight from Massachusetts.

Cooley said earlier in Houston that indications were that Karp's body was unlikely to reject the donor heart but in Detroit he said the patient would have "a great deal of difficulty recovering."

"We think he is a favorable type of recipient," Cooley said of Karp in Houston.

It was Cooley's 19th such operation.

Cooley said the eight-ounce plastic and fabric heart he implanted in Karp's chest on a temporary basis last Friday has proved it can keep patients alive while awaiting a human donor.

U.S. Drops Demand For Red Nuclear Inspections

GENEVA (AP) — In a new bid to halt production of nuclear weapons, the United States today dropped its demand for American inspection of Soviet facilities.

U.S. Delegate Adrian S. Fisher appealed to the 17-nation disarmament conference for an agreement that would halt the production of all fissionable material such as enriched uranium and plutonium. He also repeated the American offer to transfer 60,000 kilos of enriched uranium, U235, to peaceful purposes, if the Soviet Union did the same with 40,000 kilos of the same material. A kilo is 2.2 pounds.

In what he termed "a change in the previous position of the United States, Fisher proposed that the agreement be safeguarded by the International Atomic Energy Agency, IAEA, in Vienna.

Previously the United States had insisted on an inspection system involving "substantial elements of adversary inspection, particularly in the search for undisclosed facilities."

This would mean U.S. and Soviet inspection teams visiting each other's facilities, a concept which has always been strongly opposed by the Russians on grounds that it could lead to spying.

Fisher said such an argument "clearly cannot be applied to the inspection system we are now discussing."

Fisher made clear that the United States still insists on on-site inspections to police an underground test ban. He said that even the scientific evidence presented by the Swedes shows that "a clear separation between earthquakes and nuclear explosions could not be made by teleseismic means for underground nuclear test explosions up to tens of kilotons of explosive yield. This means that each year many seismic events will occur in the Soviet Union which are not susceptible to a determination—by seismic means—as to whether they are earthquakes or nuclear tests up to tens of kilotons of explosive yield."

Ray Petitions For New Trial

MEMPHIS (AP) — James Earl Ray, contending that two of his lawyers were more interested in financial gains than his fate, has officially asked for a new trial in the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

In a petition filed Monday Ray said he was "pressured" into a March 10 guilty plea because a trial would have made the facts a "matter of public record for the free use of all" and would have endangered the success of a projected book and movie.

Ray was represented first by Arthur Hanes of Birmingham, an attorney he fired in November, and then by Percy Foreman of Houston, who arranged a 99-year sentence in exchange for the guilty plea.

The motion said Foreman "pressured him, and he, the defendant, under duress due to this pressure, entered a plea of 'guilty' for 'the sole financial gain of the said attorney.'"

Attached to the petition were letters and agreements involving Ray, author William Bradford Huie of Hartselle, Ala., who is writing a book about Ray and negotiating movie rights, Hanes and Foreman.

No date has been set for a hearing on the motion. The attorney general's office has said that Ray would be returned from his maximum security cell in the penitentiary in Nashville to Memphis for any such hearings.

Little Progress In Secret Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secret contacts with Communist negotiators reportedly have produced little or no real progress toward ending the Vietnam war despite some recent optimistic reports from U.S. officials.

Some high administration authorities say privately they believe that North Vietnam and the Viet Cong still are convinced they will win the war in South Vietnam if they fight on long enough. These authorities conclude that enemy leaders are therefore not yet seriously interested in a compromise settlement.

On the contrary, according to this view, they want to keep public pressure on President Nixon to bring the conflict to a close on their terms.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers told a news conference Monday the presence of enemy negotiators in Paris, taken together with "indirect reports we have received" indicate "some interest in a negotiated" settlement on their part.

"Whether this is done just to mislead us or not," he said, "there is no way of knowing until we proceed a little further down the road."

In Paris, South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Kao Ky said flatly "The enemy at the present time is not ready for serious talks."

Rogers' comment, suggesting deep uncertainty about Communist intentions, appeared to be in line with word from other informants here that the United States and South Vietnam have encountered hard going in trying to set up regular secret negotiations on the basic issues of withdrawal of troops by both sides and a political settlement in South Vietnam.

In response to a question on withdrawal of troops, he said "I would certainly hope that there would be some chance of mutual withdrawal of troops this year."

He would not talk about withdrawal of U.S. troops alone, in the absence of similar action by North Vietnam, except to say that "We are considering all possibilities."

Milliken Honors Detroit Tigers

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken proclaimed today as "The Day of the Tiger" in Michigan, confidently predicting the Tigers again will win the baseball world championship.

Declared the governor: "In 1968, the Detroit Tigers captured not only the world championship of baseball but also the enthusiasm and support of people throughout Michigan."

"In 1969, as they defend that championship, the Tigers once again have the enthusiastic support of a proud state. They merit that support from the first pitch on opening day to the last out of the World Series."

"Therefore, I, William G. Milliken, governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby proclaim the day of Tuesday, April 8, the opening day of the Tigers' 1969 season, as 'The Day of the Tiger' throughout the State of Michigan and do urge every citizen to give full support to the Tigers in anticipation that the flag of world champions again will be hoisted above center field in Tiger Stadium in April of 1970 as it will be on April 8, 1969."

Rogers made no mention of any Arab countries directly, but his remarks were considered a stiff rebuke to the Arab position.

Hussein is one of the most flexible and pro-Western of the Arab leaders. But he rules a land shorn of its richest province and overcrowded with refugees which has become a main base for Palestinian guerrillas waging hit-and-run war against Israel.

Has Thoughts

In advance of his meeting with Nixon, Hussein said he did not have a plan for peace but said "I do believe I have some good thoughts to put forth."

He is known, however, to believe that all hopes for peace lie with the talks that opened in New York last week between the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France. He also believes that continuing tension in the Middle East can only help the Soviets.

Hussein has warned that should the U. N. fail to bring peace "there will be no alternative but to take up arms—everyone of us will then become a commando."

In return for Israel's withdrawal from occupied territories, Hussein is believed ready to make some adjustments in the borders his country had before the 1967 June war.

Thorny Problem

It is said that he might agree to demilitarization of the west bank of the Jordan River which before the 1967 war exposed Israel's midsection.

Hussein has been publicly uncompromising in his demand for the return of the Arab Old City, site of Islam's third holiest shrine and no Arab leader could afford to surrender it willingly.

Hussein Hopes Big Four Can Settle Conflict

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jordan's embattled King Hussein arrived for talks with President Nixon today, expressing fear that another major war threatens in the Middle East with the "possibility of outside involvement."

"If no solution is found I think the danger of another major conflict in the area in the not too distant future is very real," Hussein said Monday as he arrived in New York en route to talks with Nixon today.

The 34-year-old monarch who has steered his wracked nation through 16 years of war and peril said he welcomed Big Four efforts to settle Mideast tensions and said he hoped they are successful.

But within hours after making his comments, guns blazed across the Jordanian-Israeli border and 13 people were wounded in another of the almost continuous duels that keep the region's tempers at white heat.

Retaliation

In the latest attack, the Israeli army said rockets were fired from the Jordanian port of Aqaba into the Israeli resort of Eilat and that the "Israeli air force attacked the sources of fire and silenced them."

Israel retaliated with air attacks against Aqaba.

In another important development Monday Secretary of State William P. Rogers declared at a news conference that "Israel... has a right to exist."

Rogers made no mention of any Arab countries directly, but his remarks were considered a stiff rebuke to the Arab position.

U.P. Power Co. Reports Record Sales Of Energy

The Upper Peninsula Power Co. reported record sale of energy and continued customer growth in its 1968 annual report.

Russell F. Hoyer, chairman of the board and president, stated sales of electric energy in 1968 reached an all-time high of 532,671,000 kilowatt hours for a gain of 3.5 per cent over 1967.

All categories of electric sales had good gains except for industrial, which showed a very slight decrease, he said. New customers and increased use by existing customers more than offset the phasing out of a small iron mine and a copper mine and mill.

Total operating revenues rose 7.6 per cent to $12,146,300, also a new high, Hoyer said. Related operation and maintenance costs increased 7.4 per cent to $6,891,900.

Income Declines

While higher operating expenses were tempered by above-average hydro generation, outlays for taxes increased 14.7 per cent and interest on borrowed money rose 16 per cent, resulting in a decline of 5.3 per cent in net income from 1967, Hoyer said. Net income amounted to $1,277,900, a decrease of $71,600 from the previous year.

Revenues from residential customers increased 5.7 per cent and provided 35 per cent of total electric revenues. The increase was supported by continued emphasis on electric heat installations of which 127 were connected during 1968 bringing the total customers served in this relatively new area of sales to 519. The number of customers supplied in all categories reached 34,090 at year end which was 576 more than the previous year.

Common stock earnings amounted to $2 per share, a reduction of 12 cents from 1967. Dividends totaling $1.58 per share were paid during the year. The present quarterly rate of 40 cents was established with the August 1, 1968 report.

Combined general, Federal and State taxes totaled $1,942,100, an increase of 14.7 per cent.

Employs 330 People

Operating payroll amounted to $1,967,431. At the end of the year the company employed 330 people.

Because of substantial increases in the cost of doing business and the resultant decrease in earnings, the company filed a petition with the Michigan Public Service Commission Nov. 15, 1968, requesting an early hearing on a proposed general increase in electric rates. The company has not had a general increase since 1953. Seven other utilities doing business in Michigan also have filed for rate increases, Hoyer said.

The year saw an unusual amount of activity among larger customers.

The Northern Automatic Electric Foundry, a new industry in Ishpeming, commenced commercial operation late in the year. The $2 million all-electric foundry is the first of its kind in the upper midwest. The foundry will produce approximately 20,000 tons of small castings annually from scrap steel for use in mining, paint, cement and industrial mineral industries.

Forecast Bright

Copper Range Co. completed a $2 million all-electric wood fabrication complex near South Range. All-Wood, Inc., of Baraga began operation of its $400,000 all-electric sawmill which includes a chipper and debarker, and White Pine Copper Co. and Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. both continued expansion in the White Pine and Ishpeming areas.

Continued development in mining, forest industries and other expansion throughout the service area reflects a bright forecast for 1969, Hoyer said.

Construction projects to support area expansion are planned for 1969 and involve estimated cash expenditures of $2,116,900. Other improvements to modernize existing system facilities will be carried on throughout the year.

As of Oct. 21, 1968 the company had 5,254 shareholders — 4,853 holders of common stock and 401 preferred stock. Average number of common shares per shareholder was 120 and no shareholder held more than 4.9 per cent of the total common stock outstanding.

Upper Peninsula Power Co. provides electric service to over 34,000 customers within 11 of the 15 counties in the Upper Peninsula. General offices are at Houghton, with district offices at Calumet, Houghton, Ontonagon, Ishpeming, Munising, Gwinn, Escanaba and Iron River.

Kiwanis Hosts Clergy Of Area

The Escanaba Kiwanis Club had the clergy of the area as guests at its Monday luncheon meeting. Thirteen clergymen of various denominations answered the invitation, including the Rev. Lowell Fox, guest speaker. Other clergymen included Rev. Fr. Charles Carmody, Rev. Karl J. Hammar, Rev. Eric Hammar, Rev. Robert Selberg, Rev. Fr. Jordan Telles, O.F.M., Major Orville Butts, Dr. Walfred Nelson, Rev. Konstantin Wipp, Rev. Phillip Lyon, Rev. Ben Helmer, Rev. Paul Stacy and Rev. John Alford.

In his address, Rev. Fox said the heart is the center of man's emotions, and that God Himself has set eternity in the hearts of men.

"All through history man has had the concept of an eternity, a life after death, including Plato, Aristotle, Homer, and the American Indians who buried cherished effects with the bodies of the dead, so that they may have them in the life after death."

Rev. Fox likened the eternal concept of man to the migratory instincts of the birds, the hibernating instincts of the bear, and the homing instinct of the coho salmon. It too is a feeling which God instilled, he said.

"Man has an eternal instinct for God, a never ending search for peace on this earth," he stated, "but life is not complete on earth as man realizes there is more than this life offers."

Dates On Dipnet, Spearing Seasons Are Corrected

The dates listed in the Daily Press Monday for special spearing and dipnet seasons in designated Upper Peninsula streams were incorrect, the Dept. of Natural Resources pointed out today.

Spearing of carp, suckers, redear and mullet with or without an artificial light is legal only during May in the Upper Peninsula on designated streams, officers reported.

The dipnet season for taking suckers, smelt, mullet and carp on designated trout streams also runs only in May.

It was reported Monday in different articles that the spearing and dipnet seasons on designated streams opened April 1. The department pointed out that the seasons are open from April 1 to May 31 in Lower Michigan, but only during May in the Upper Peninsula.

The only Delta County trout stream open to dipnetting in May is the Ogontz River. A list of streams open to spearing was published on Page 2 of Monday's Daily Press.

Lions Schedule 4th 'Radio Day'

The Escanaba Lions Club will stage its 4th annual "Radio Day" Tuesday, May 6, members were informed Monday night.

Conducted with the cooperation of local businesses and industries, "Radio Day" annual netting nets nearly $2,000 for the Lions Club's sight and blind and community service activities.

Members of the club will begin visitations to local businesses and industries this week, according to Ron DeVos, project chairman.

During "Radio Day" members of the Lions Club take over operation of WDRC in Escanaba, serving as announcers and disk jockeys.

Continuing its service to the community, the club's Board of Directors Monday night approved participation with the Delta - Menominee District Health Dept. in a glaucoma clinic to be scheduled in Escanaba in May and also gave tentative approval to setting up an "Eye Bank" program in the community. Further details on both projects will be announced later.

In the program part of the meeting, David Schweitzer of Escanaba, marketing representative for the data processing division of IBM for the Upper Peninsula, explained some of the progress made in the computer industry.

In 1950, Schweitzer said, there were only 10 to 15 computers in operation in the United States. Today, he continued, there are over 40,000 and by 1975 there are expected to be over 85,000 computers operating at a total investment of about $30 billion.

"The computer today is more than just an accounting or payroll machine," he said. "Computers are faster and easier to program with new computer languages."

The real payoff of computers, he said, is in helping management to become more effective managers.

Schweitzer said there are between 20 and 50 computer operations in the Upper Peninsula and predicted that the development of smaller, less expensive units will allow many small businessmen to use computers in their operations for such things as inventory control, payroll, and other accounting problems in the near future.

The Choral-Aires, a 16-voice group, will sing several spirituals, an Italian Madrigal, and a showtune selection. The Traverse City and Escanaba choirs will combine to close the program.

Ore Boat Damaged By Ice

By CLINT DUNATHAN
Winter's lingering ice on Green Bay damaged the bow of the 612-foot ore carrier Henry Ford II and caused her to return to Escanaba for repairs before she could continue her trip to Dearborn.

The Ford had loaded 11,000 tons of pellet ore from the Groveland mine at the Chicago & North Western Railway's new $16.5 million ore handling facility. She cleared for Dearborn and was back on Monday morning, with rivets loosened on her bowframe.

The carrier had encountered heavy ice in the area of Minneapolis Shovel some 12 miles south of Escanaba.

Water In Bow
While damage was minor and the vessel was not in danger at any time, it was deemed best

THE ORE CARRIER Henry Ford II, with rivets in her bow frame loosened by ice, returned to the Chicago & North Western ore dock for repairs before proceeding with her cargo of 11,000 tons of pellet ore to Dearborn. Damage was minor and repairs were made by the T. D. Vinette Co., Escanaba. (Daily Press Photo).

Welcome

The SS Henry Ford II, first ore boat of the 1969 ore shipping season, was welcomed by the Escanaba Area Chamber of Commerce and the City of Escanaba. Don Brandt, president of the chamber, presented Capt. Mike Gerasimos with a merchandise gift certificate from the Chamber. Also on the welcoming committee were Mayor Cecil Chase and Chamber Manager Walter Lewke.

to have her return to Escanaba, said Dale Vinette of the T. D. Vinette Co., who made the repairs on the Ford.

"She had a little water in her—about 1½ feet in her forepeak," said Vinette.

In working her bow in the ice, the Ford loosened rivets on her frame and these rivets had to be welded and tightened before the Ford could proceed. After arriving there and having her cargo removed she will be inspected more fully and permanent repairs completed. Vinette said he hoped the work here would be completed today and the Ford could be on her way after being checked out by a marine inspector from the Coast Guard at St. Ignace.

Test Operation

The ore carrier's skipper is Capt. M. Gerasimos. The vessel arrived here Friday night—first ore carrier of the season and the first ore boat to load at the North Western's new ore terminal. Last year the Ryerson was the first ore boat to arrive at Escanaba, coming in March 31.

The North Western made the loading of the Henry Ford II a test operation and no additional boats are scheduled until possibly Thursday. The C&NW expects to load out more ore with the new conveyor type dock in 1969 than it did with the old wooden dock when a record 6,700,000 tons was handled in 1967.

Marine traffic generally on the Great Lakes is moving with caution through icy channels at the St. Marys River and the Straits of Mackinac.

The St. Marys River has considerable drift ice 12 to 18 inches; there are channels open and more open water showing at the Straits; and Green Bay is reported as "jammed" with drift ice with some open leads.

Delay On Education

Governor Milliken's plan to establish a commission on educational reforms in Michigan has met a mixed reaction.

He seems to have been given an "A" on political savvy, but there was some flak from the Democratic legislators, who said that the state had just finished an inspection of its educational establishment on which it had spent $200,000, so why do it over again?

There was some editorial praise for the commission plan. The Detroit Free Press suggested that if the state moved now to enlarge its education funds the school teachers would gobble up the increase in their negotiating sessions on salaries, so that there would be nothing left for reforms.

While it is an old and often successful gimmick to refer a hot potato issue to a committee in order to get the heat off the officials who must make the decision, the governor's suggestion could be helpful. Its weakness is that it would cause delay on a serious issue of aid to non-public schools which are in financial straits and closing like resort restaurants on Labor Day.

Its strength is that it could be used to educate the people of Michigan in greater depth about the crisis in their schools — all their schools.

This is really needed, and a special commission, while it could not be expected to find anything new nor suggest anything sensationally helpful, could help inform the people of Michigan about the commitment that they have made to public schooling and its relationship to the public's need for schooling.

Michigan moved into responsibility for public schooling very early. It created a good school system and managed the extension of it from a norm of 8 grades of schooling to a norm of 12 grades, and then accepted a new burden of higher education. (The state has financed higher education so heavily that the private colleges are now in need of aid because of the competition created by the tax-supported state schools).

This huge educational build-up helped create problems for the non-public schools. As the number of religious order teachers declined, their costs rose even sharper, their tuition rates went up and more and more of their children went to public schools. But there are still 315,000 Michigan children going to non-public schools, which are in deepening financial difficulties.

Governor Milliken is trying to separate this non-public school issue from the main topic of the problems of the public schools. He says that if the Legislature does vote a non-public school aid bill, it should be only a nominal appropriation to allow time to test its constitutionality. The Legislature may have another opinion about this. There is strong sentiment in the House for parochialism; less certain support for it in the Senate.

Milliken is proposing to increase school aid this year by $85 million. (The State Board of Education called for a minimum increase of $129 million.) He is asking his educational reform commission to report a reform package for Michigan's elementary and secondary schools by Sept. 30. He'll then ask the Legislature to finance the reform package.

If the commission is fully honest its mission will be unsettling because people will be impressed with the way that Michigan schooling now gives Negroes less than whites, with the way that the MEA has been able to get top pay for teachers who aren't top teachers, with the inequalities of instructional offerings, and with the Frankenstein quality of public schooling, which has created a huge, expensive establishment which has many shortcomings, but which still remains our hope for change.

Take Home Skids

Guest "editorial" from a newsletter published by the investment firm of Goodbody & Co.:

"From 1965 to 1968, gross weekly earnings in manufacturing rose nearly 14 per cent, to $122.50, with about half the increase occurring in 1968 alone. Higher Social Security taxes and the surtax, however, held the gain in average take-home pay for the manufacturing worker with three dependents to 10.3 per cent. The consumer price index during the same period rose by 10 per cent, thus leaving a three-year gain in purchasing power of only 26¢ a week."

That, in case you were wondering, is what is known as inflation — or running as fast as you can to stay in the same place.

The average worker was actually better off in 1962 through 1965, the newsletter points out. A more stable price level enabled him to realize an annual average increase of more than $2 a week in his purchasing power during those years.

Tax Exemptions

Talk of tax reform is in the air, but nothing very weighty in terms meaningful to the average citizen is likely to get off the congressional launching pad. There are simply so many "average citizens" that even a minor tax concession to them could be more than the government could afford.

For instance, there is much agitation to increase the present, unrealistic $600 personal exemption. But merely doubling this exemption to $1,200 would cost the IRS a whopping $17 billion in lost revenue.

This is $17 billion compared to the tens or perhaps hundreds of millions that might be realized through tightening up the law regarding foundations or real estate depreciation or lowering the oil depletion allowance and so on.

This is not to argue that unfair tax loopholes should not be closed wherever it is possible to do it without opening up new loopholes somewhere else. Every little bit certainly helps.

But it is the little bit from the little taxpayer, multiplied by the millions, which is and always will be the government's main support.

Intermediate Districts Unfamiliar In Michigan

What is an intermediate school district?

Less than 10 per cent of people interviewed in downtown Lansing had a reasonably accurate answer to this question about one of the most important units in Michigan's basic educational plan.

Usually knowledgeable about all phases of the changing governmental scene, most Capital City people interviewed had only hazy ideas of the authority and purpose of the state's intermediate school district system.

Old Pattern Gone
 A few of those interviewed knew that the old-fashioned county school superintendent or commissioner had vanished from the Michigan scene in 1962, but they were unsure of the nature and responsibilities of the official and the organization which replaced him.

In Michigan, the administration of education takes place on the state level, regional level, and on the local level.

The intermediate school district exists on the regional level. Some 650 operating districts, which run the local schools in all of Michigan's 83 counties, comprise the community level of the state educational plan.

Michigan's intermediate districts perform specialized, technical, and sophisticated services which most operating districts find too costly or too impractical to do for themselves.

Incorrect Beliefs
 The common belief that intermediate school districts are merely county commissioner's offices under a new name is incorrect.

Except for discharging certain regional administrative duties for the State Board of Education, the "new" intermediate district and the "old" county unit have little in common.

An intermediate district may serve more than one county, depending in large part on density of population, the highway system or other communication patterns, or other factors. Delta and Schoolcraft counties compose one intermediate school district.

Boundaries of intermediate districts do not necessarily follow county boundary lines but rather the boundaries of the operating districts which they serve.

Specialists Serve
 A staff of administrators and specialists, under the direction of a superintendent, perform the work of an intermediate district.

In a recent publication of the Wayne County Intermediate District, which supplies consultant and supportive services to 39 local school districts, the goals and services of this active southeastern Michigan intermediate unit were outlined.

"The primary goal, according to Deputy Superintendent William C. Miller," is to improve education for the more than a half million children in the district. We also serve as a link between local units and the Michigan Department of Education. The staff constantly examines the needs and problems of the local units and offer the service based on local desires and goals."

Growing Needs
 "It is almost impossible for small communities to provide all of the technical and specialized help needed to run today's schools," Miller said. "For that reason we and other intermediate units are adding staff and services to take care of growing needs of our modern Michigan schools."

A summary of the areas in which consulting services are offered in this southeastern Michigan area reveals how technical and complicated education has become.

Federal Programs
 In the urban and suburban metropolitan area 39 local districts call on the county units for help in administrative services, adult education, attendance, curriculum development, data processing, disadvantaged youth, educational television, elementary education, federal programs, finance, school food services, home economics, guidance and counseling, health education, instructional materials, international education, legislation, mathematics education, membership accounting, migrant children programs, pre-school education, public relations, reading and language arts, research, study design, statistics, school business management, school law, science, secondary education, shared learning experience programs, social studies, school evaluation studies, school social work programs, transportation advisory services, vocational and technical education, and the neighborhood youth corps work

Although intermediate school districts with smaller population bases cannot support the broad program of services given in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, and other more populous counties, all have gone beyond the minimal services which were once offered by the outmoded county commissioner system.

All intermediate boards welcome visitors seeking help or information. Persons living in all of Michigan's 83 counties can meet the local intermediate superintendent — Walter McClintock for Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate District — and make arrangements to visit the center at Kipling and meet specialists on the staff.

U.S. Flexes Its Muscle For Korea

By RAY CROMLEY

SEOUL, KOREA (NEA) — Koreans will be a long time forgetting the Pueblo capture.

It's associated with a North Korean attempt that same week to assassinate South Korea's President Chung Hee Park.

Koreans this reporter talked to still don't understand why the United States didn't react. Still more puzzling to the Koreans was the U. S. insistence that South Korean troops take no retaliatory action.

No responsible Korean wanted to start a war with the north. But there is a belief deeply rooted in Asian philosophy that men must not stand still under such provocation. Otherwise, worse provocations will follow.

As Koreans reason, to let deliberate, openly derisive enemy aggressive acts go unpunished, destroys the people's confidence, convinces the enemy you are without the will to defend yourself and leads him into miscalculations that could lead to war.

The U. S. insistence against quick, sharp retaliation by the South Koreans led to one of the stormiest all-night sessions in U. S.-Korean diplomatic history.

The U. S. action gave rise to deep doubts in Korea. They were not made happier by multiplying news accounts of demonstrations and protests, or by letters and speeches by prominent Americans that indirectly suggested the South Vietnamese be abandoned to Communist slaughter, as were the North Vietnamese in 1954.

Koreans asked if the United States would not defend South Vietnamese to the end, would it defend South Koreans?

Washington attempted to mollify Korean fears by sending air units and beefing up military aid.

But these were not convincing arguments. Washington had not only sent aid but had sacrificed a great many men in South Vietnam. But it appeared to Korean eyes that we were not willing to stay for the long pull.

Koreans have tied their future to the alliance with America. Some were beginning to wonder if they had not made a mistake.

Thus Focus Retina, the joint U. S.-Korean exercise in which 2,500 U. S. troops were airlifted from the United States virtually nonstop for parachute-in joint field exercises with the South Koreans.

To the troops aboard the plane this reporter rode from North Carolina to Korea, it was almost a routine operation. Poker flourished much of the 24 hours.

To the Koreans this reporter talked to after landing, the exercises meant something more. They were dramatic.

They were deliberately carried out in a way to make the North Koreans unhappy.

They came within 60 days of President Nixon's inauguration.

Win At Bridge

By JACOBY & SON

The Jacoby column has just about reached its 20th anniversary. During that entire period Russ Winterbotham has had the extra duty at Newspaper Enterprise Association of checking it.

We are pretty sure that Russ enjoyed the task because from time to time he sent us hands with the definite instruction, "Don't mention my name!"

Today's article is based on one he sent us several years ago. We put it away at the time, but now he can't stop us from running it.

Russ sat South and Mrs. Winterbotham North. When Russ failed to double seven clubs his wife knew that he had solid spades and wanted her to bid seven. She obliged.

West felt that he had to double, and Russ was never a man to refuse a challenge. He redoubled!

If West had been kind enough to lead anything but a trump, there would have been 13 easy tricks on a cross-ruff, but West did lead a trump.

Russ won in his hand and led a heart to dummy's ace. Then ruffed a heart, ruffed a club and ruffed another low heart.

If hearts broke 4-3 Russ could have discarded his last two clubs on the king and eight of that suit, but they broke 5-2.

This worried Russ but didn't cost him the grand slam. He ran off all his trumps and the last trump lead squeezed West. He couldn't hold two hearts and the king and queen of diamonds.

We are going to miss Russ at NEA. His cherry comments, infinite patience and general friendship will be gone, but we are looking forward to hearing from him occasionally, and if he sends us hands, he can't stop us from using them now.

Ann Landers

Counselor Told Her To Turn Down Heat

Dear Ann Landers: I was shocked at your advice to the mother whose 3-year-old had temper tantrums. You suggested that the child be taught to kick the furniture and "get the anger out of his system."

I always thought you were a little cuckoo. Now I'm sure.

My younger brother used to kick the furniture when he got mad. Mother called it, "Letting off steam." Well, he's 32 years old now and still kicking the furniture—what's left of it, that is. He is also kicking his wife, the cat, the kids and anything else that gets in his way. Last October he threw the TV set out the window when his favorite football team failed to score and lost the game. (The window was closed at the time.)

Why don't you tell mothers that children must be taught to control their anger? This is what separates civilized human beings from savages, Dummy.—Star Witness.

Dear Star: You, like some others who wrote to criticize, ignored the most important part of my answer.

I did not condone destroying furniture. I suggested that a punching bag or an old chair, specifically set aside for the purpose, be the object of the child's hostility. And P. S.—the most important part of my answer went like this: "Youngsters should be taught to vent their anger against things—not people."

Dear Ann Landers: Please excuse my English. I come from Europe and my ability to write your language is very limited.

I have learned a lot from your column but I must tell you that you made a poor answer lately. You remarked that sometimes the sex battery in a husband goes dead because the wife acts bashful and is not active. You said to the wife, "Turn on the heat."

I had this same problem, only upside down. My husband agreed to go with me for counseling because we were not enjoying ourselves together. The counselor said I was too active and advised me to turn down the heat and let my husband lead in our love-making.

The counselor explained that men become frightened when a woman is too eager.

Since we changed our ways things are much better. So please, Ann, change your advice.—Love You Anyway

Dear Love: Sorry, Lamb Chop, but most men would love to be frightened like that. Perhaps your husband prefers the shy type, but most men prefer a highly cooperative, responsive woman.

Your point is well taken, however. Married couples should be completely honest and let one another know what is pleasant and desirable. Each couple should write its own rules. There is no right or wrong in making love.

If you have trouble getting along with your parents if you can't get them to let you live your own life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How To Get More Freedom." Send 50¢ in coin with your request and a long, stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Letters

I am somewhat puzzled by the reluctance of our State Representative Charles H. Varnum to express himself on the issue of parochialism without insisting on guidance from our state superintendent of public instruction.

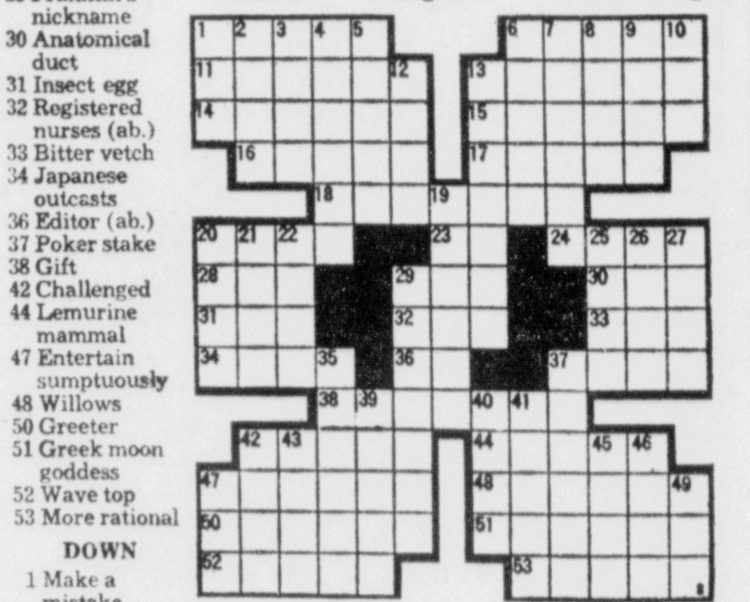

Gathering facts pro and con is very commendable before decisions of any kind are made, but being a former educator he should be qualified to form an opinion of his own without seeking the aid of Dr. Ira Polley.

In the final analysis it will be the elected officials who will make the decision on this issue. In the meantime our patience is also nearing an end.

Robber Offers Victim Money

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A man waved a pistol at Mrs. Mary Franklin while she worked in a hamburger stand Sunday.

"Give me all your money," the gunman demanded.

"I've just been robbed," lied Mrs. Franklin. "I don't have any money."

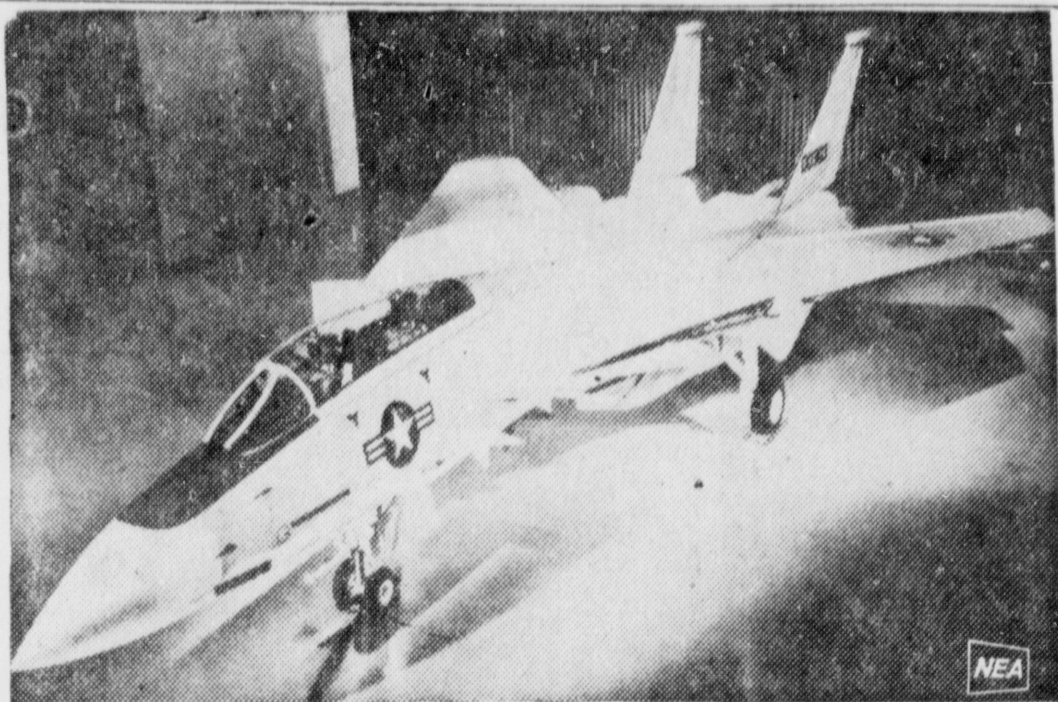

"Oh, you poor lady," the bandit replied.

He piled some bills from his pocket on the counter.

"Here, take some of my money," he said.

Mrs. Franklin refused. The man finally gave up, took his money and left.

Sheriff's deputies arrested a Houston truck driver, outside the stand.

NEW NAVY FIGHTER is Grumman's F-14A, being built to replace the abandoned F-111B. The two-place supersonic, carrier-based aircraft will be equipped with after-burning turbofan engines and a fire-control system with multiple weapon option. Designed with an optimized combination of speed, acceleration, maneuverability and radius of action, the F-14A is expected to be ready for its first flight in early 1971 and would join the fleet in 1973.

Experts Probe Air Polluters

DETROIT (AP) — Air pollution control experts will converge in Detroit next week for a not-so-scenic cruise down the Detroit River.

They will survey the city's waterfront industrial complex, and the resulting air pollution problems for residents on either side of the river.

The group, named the National Air Conservation Commission, was established by the National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association to stimulate action in controlling air pollution.

Politics Is My Thing, Claims Elly Peterson

LANSING (AP) — Elly Peterson, former state GOP chairman who will be sworn in Monday as Republican national vice chairman, said "This is the one job in the administration I really wanted."

"Politics is my thing," she added. "Government really isn't."

Mrs. Peterson will journey to Washington this weekend and attend a White House reception Sunday for retiring National Chairman Ray Bliss. She will be sworn in Monday when the Republican National Committee meets, she said.

The former state chairman added that she didn't expect to be offered the post because she had never worked with Rogers C.B. Morton, former Maryland representative replacing Bliss.

"I assumed he would choose someone with whom he had worked," she said.

Mrs. Peterson was state chairman from 1965-1969. She stepped down after being elected national committeewoman during the convention in Miami last August.

In her new position, one of her tasks will be to set up task forces to review the party in all 50 states, she said.

"Each state is different," she said. "Some are well organized. Some are not."

"I'll be on the road a great deal," she added.

In addition, she said she hoped to publicize federal appointments and to talk with the women party leaders in each of the states to screen names for possible federal appointive posts.

Set Hearing On Sex Discrimination

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — A public hearing on two charges of sex discrimination, the second hearing conducted by the civil rights commission involving sex discrimination, has been scheduled for Wednesday in Traverse City.

Two Traverse City women, Mrs. Helen Marantette and Mrs. Marion J. Becker, charge they were denied opportunity for promotion in 1967 by the Burwood Products Co. because of their sex.

Civil Rights Commissioner Theodore LaMarre and hearing referee Carl C. Poston Jr. of Saginaw, will hear the testimony.

The charges ask that the company be ordered to give the women all benefits and rights they would have received had they not been discriminated against.

After the hearing, the panel will prepare a finding presentation to the commission. The commission will then issue orders which may be enforced or appealed by either party in circuit court.

Lead On Bombing

Swiss Explosives Plant Blows Up

AARAU, Switzerland (AP) — An explosives factory blew up today at the village of Dottikon, killing nine persons and injuring 40 others, police reported.

Alarm sirens and church bells began ringing in villages and towns for miles around as the explosion sent a shock wave through the countryside and raised a gigantic mushroom cloud over the village.

Within minutes hundreds of ambulances, fire engines and patrol cars from the entire canton of Aarau raced to Dottikon, an industrial village of some 2,000 inhabitants.

The blast was felt 12 miles away in Aarau, and for five miles around it shattered nearly all window panes.

Police headquarters said the explosion blew off roofs and cracked and damaged the walls of several dozen houses in Dottikon. A small forest next to the factory caught fire, but contrary to early reports the only buildings that collapsed were some of those of the explosives company.

The explosion occurred in a nitrate plant at 7:15 a.m. shortly after the factory's 400 employees had come to work. But police said elaborate safety arrangements prevented the explosion from setting off stocks of combustibles.

It was not immediately clear what had caused the blast.

It was the third major accidental explosion in Switzerland this year. One destroyed a fire-cracker factory near Lausanne in January, killing a pedestrian who was walking past. Four workers were seriously injured in an explosion that destroyed a house under construction at Hergiswil in February.

Duo-Piano Team To Close Concert Season

Bill and Patricia Medley, a husband and wife duo piano team, will close the season of the Delta Community Concert Association when they play here in concert Tuesday evening, April 15 at the William W. Oliver Memorial Auditorium.

Not newcomers to Escanaba, they were re-engaged because of their great appeal to the local audience several years ago through their musicianship, friendliness and charm.

The Medleys have received a succession of acclaim from communities, large and small, from coast to coast. Since 1955, they have performed in more than 625 cities and towns in the United States and Canada.

Use Own Pianos
Traveling by automobile, the musicians bring their own pianos to their concerts in a trailer especially built for cross country motoring.

Their musical backgrounds include Bachelor and Master of Music degrees from the University of Tulsa in Oklahoma and much private study with their eminent duo — pianist friends, Luboschultz and Nemennoff.

Artists in Residence

TV Sets Emit Dangerous Rays

RIVERHEAD, N.Y. (AP) — A county survey of 5,000 Long Island color television sets has shown 20 per cent emitting potentially dangerous radiation—regardless of manufacturer or model.

Results of the two-year survey by the Suffolk County Public Health Service were disclosed Monday by County Executive Lee H. Dennison, who said the county was providing free inspection of color sets to all county residents who requested it.

Seymour Becker, county physicist who conducted the survey, said the age of the set, size of screen and type of cabinet did not figure in his findings, but "dangerous levels of radiation" were found in all types.

Owners, informed that their sets were emitting the dangerous X-rays, returned them to manufacturers for repair, he said, and although some sets were repaired free, other owners had to pay $15 or $25 for the service.

Black and white television sets, not included in the Suffolk survey, have never been found to produce harmful rays.

TurboTrain Is On Regular Run

BOSTON (AP) — Penn Central began regular passenger service today of its long-awaited jet-powered TurboTrain to run between New York and Boston.

The railroad hopes eventually to cut travel time between the two cities to 2½ hours. It now takes about 4 hours.

U.S. secretary of transportation John A. Volpe, whose department is subsidizing the TurboTrain in a two-year experimental operation, said the success of the program rests now with the operating railroads.

"Whether it is successful depends on whether the Penn Central wants to make it successful, and whether the public is informed about it," Volpe told a news conference on the eve of the inaugural run.

"If the railroad people make passengers feel welcome, if they don't make them wait an hour for a ticket, it will be successful," he said.

Foltman Elected To Lead Lions

Dennis Foltman, printing instructor at Escanaba Area High School, Monday night was elected president of the Escanaba Lions Club for 1969-70.

Foltman will succeed Fred Saykily as president on July 1.

Other officers elected were August Brazeau, first vice president; Dave Andrews, second vice president; Gary Barton, third vice president; Ron DeVos, tailtwister, and Jim Schultz, Lion tamer.

Jack Manning was elected to a one-year term on the Board of Directors and Elmer Bonifas and Jack Magnuson won two-year terms.

The club presently has 58 members, according to Don Scott, secretary. Meetings are held on the first and third Mondays of each month at the Sherman Hotel.

Sen. Kennedy Endorses Surtax

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy today endorsed President Nixon's proposal to extend the 10 per cent income tax surcharge but suggested it be coupled with tax reform legislation.

"The fundamental logic of the surcharge demands that it be coupled with tax reform," the Massachusetts Democrat said in a speech for the Economic Club. "I believe the first step toward basic tax reform should be made a part of any law extending the surcharge," he added. "By taking such action we gain a double benefit. We insure that the surcharge falls more evenly on all our citizens and we lay the groundwork for comprehensive tax reform."

Murder Suspect Gets Sentenced

MUSKEGON (AP) — Chester A. Johnson, 22, of Jackson, wanted for questioning for two killings in California, was sentenced Monday in Muskegon County Circuit Court to 20 years to life in prison for armed robbery.

Last month Johnson was found guilty of the $1,200 armed robbery of a Muskegon Heights store Feb. 24.

His accomplice in the robbery, Miss Terry Jean Phelps, 19, also of Jackson, has also pleaded guilty to a similar robbery charge and is expected to be sentenced within two weeks.

Extradition papers have been received by Muskegon County authorities for the pair in connection with the deaths of an Oakland, Calif., dentist and a Hollywood youth.

Deaths from uterine cancer have been cut in half in 30 years with the help of the Pap test, says the American Cancer Society.

Israeli, Arabs Trade Charges

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel and the Arabs battled at the head of the Gulf of Aqaba and across the Suez Canal today, with each side accusing the other of starting the hostilities.

The Israeli army said rockets from the Jordanian port of Aqaba landed on the nearby Israeli port of Elath, and Israeli air force jets quickly retaliated with an attack on the Jordanian port.

Al Fatah, the Arab guerrilla organization, charged that the Israeli planes struck first and said its troops shelled Elath with heavy rockets in retaliation. Al Fatah claimed its rockets heavily damaged "vital installations" in the Israeli town and port and killed or wounded a large number of Israelis.

Meanwhile, Israeli and Egyptian guns duelled across the Suez Canal throughout the morning. An attempt by U.N. observers to get a cease-fire at midmorning failed, with Israel and Egypt each blaming the other for the continuation of firing.

A Jordanian army spokesman said eight civilians were killed, including a woman and four children, and nine were wounded when two Israeli jets fired rockets into a residential section of Aqaba, Jordan's only port. He said the wounded included the Belgian vicar of a Roman Catholic church and his mother.

The spokesman said the jets damaged 13 houses, a church and girls' school and a police post. The spokesman made no mention of the attack of Elath and said Jordan was complaining to the U.N. Security Council about the raid on Aqaba.

'Night Train' Lane Job Coordinator

DETROIT (AP)—Former Detroit Lion defensive halfback Richard "Night Train" Lane has taken the job as coordinator of the summer youth-opportunities programs in Detroit.

Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanaugh was to announce his appointment at a news conference today.

The 41-year-old Lane has taken a leave of absence from his post as special staff assistant to the Lions.

He will be paid about $7,000 to $8,000 for the job, which runs to September.

He ended his professional football career as a player in 1965.

MSU's Adams Refuses To Stop Job Interviews

EAST LANSING (AP) — Acting President Walter Adams confronted dissident young people nose-to-nose Monday, then refused their demands to cancel further recruiting at Michigan State University by Oakland, Calif., police.

"I want to improve the system. I want to reform the system. You want to destroy the system," he told some 100 young people, many members of the militant Students for a Democratic Society, jammed into a narrow corridor outside the recruiting office.

The dissidents — nearly all white — protested what they termed "racism" in the Oakland police department. They cited the shooting death one year ago of Bobby Hutton, a member of the Black Panthers. Yelling "Oakland pigs" and "no more brothers in jail," the dissidents demanded Adams call off the interviews.

Against Mob Rule
"I am not responsible for 35 guys or 100 guys standing in a crowded corridor saying change the system," Adams said. "I will not stand for this kind of mob rule in decision making." Adams, regarded as a liberal and one of the most popular teachers on campus when named acting president to succeed Dr. John Hannah, reportedly was the first MSU chief to meet with protesting students in 27 years.

"If you think you're going to abolish the Oakland police by preventing them from recruiting, you're much more naive than I ever expected," he said.

"You don't give a f---er's damn about the blacks here," Adams yelled at one point.

"But," he said, pointing to a youth waiting to interview, "as long as I am in charge, this young man is going to have his opportunity to talk with them."

"If this is not acceptable I am deeply sorry—but that's the way it's going to be."

Escort Students
The confrontation took place outside the office of MSU placement director Jack Shingleton, where the Oakland representatives were taken after dissidents jammed a hall outside the office they were using previously.

Shingleton opened the door to let in Adams and—after a brief shoving match involving protesters and the officials—the acting president and several dissidents made their way into the room.

The student also got in, finishing his interview in an adjoining office while Adams talked with protesters, and left. Adams personally escorted a second interviewer through the crowded hall into the office, stopping to show protesters that the student was a prospective civil engineer, not a police recruit.

Some three hours after the confrontation began, plainclothes campus police and SDS members escorted the stony-faced, noncommenting Oakland representatives from the building.

Praises Adams
"They have no more interviews scheduled," Adams said. "They finished today."

Two members of the student governing body, the Associated Students of MSU, immediately issued a statement praising Adams' handling of the situation and condemning dissidents' tactics.

"We believe that the right of demonstration and dissent is a cornerstone of any real democracy," said Harv Dzodin, ASMSU vice chairman, and Chuck Modrov, a sophomore member-at-large.

"However, it is a sad state of affairs when those who profess democracy resort to the totalitarian standard of might makes right."

Coho Pesticide Count Doubles

DETROIT (AP) — Pesticide residues in salmon have doubled during two years of checking, the Detroit director of the Federal Food and Drug Administration said Monday.

And continued use of pesticides, which wash into streams and lakes from farmlands, could wipe out Michigan's salmon industry, Thomas Brown said.

He said the office is examining preliminary tests which showed that residues of DDT and related pesticides in a large shipment of coho salmon from Michigan being stored in Minnesota ranged up to 19 parts per million — compared with a tolerance level of seven parts per million in a wide variety of fruits and vegetables.

The preliminary findings led to the seizure of 28,000 pounds of Lake Michigan coho salmon recently.

Brown said some officials say the residue levels are safe, but "I would not make that statement," he said.

He said that at present, no one can say what the effects of pesticides would be if consumed by humans.

Canoe Capsized; Man In Rescue

CALEDONIA (AP) — Robert Forward, 23, of Alto has been credited by authorities with saving the life of a youth whose canoe capsized Sunday on the Thornapple River near Caledonia.

The Kent County sheriff's office said Forward jumped into the river and rescued John Good, 16, of Caledonia after a canoe in which he was riding overturned in rough waters. Good had been clinging to a floating log.

A second youth, Edward Harm on, 19, also of Caledonia, was able to swim to shore after the canoe capsized.

Good was treated for minor injuries at a Grand Rapids hospital.

Four Servicemen Killed In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four Michigan soldiers are listed by the Defense Department as killed in recent Vietnam action, while a fifth has been changed from missing to dead in combat.

Killed in recent combat were: Sgt. Charles F. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cook of East Detroit; Sgt. William M. Light, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin B. Light of Pinckney; Spec. 4 James E. Kico, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank V. Kico of Lansing; and Spec. 4 Dann J. Lobker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence B. Lobker of Coral.

Changed from missing to dead was Pfc. Robert E. Van Dusen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Van Dusen of Bay City.

Catholic Conference After Immediate Action

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Catholic Conference Monday urged Gov. William Milliken and the Legislature to "act now" to solve problems facing Michigan's public and nonpublic schools.

The conference board of directors, headed by Cardinal-designate John F. Dearden of Detroit, expressed concern for the "serious economic crisis" confronting all education.

The conference said it previously has urged Catholic school parents to support public education.

"We now express our equal concern for the needs of children attending all nonpublic schools in Michigan," the statement said.

"These schools have made substantial contributions to the public welfare and are educating at present one out of every seven school children in Michigan."

The conference said the U. S. Supreme Court has "recognized that church-related schools perform two purposes, secular and religious."

"Therefore, we support those parents and other concerned citizens who seek public aid for that part of our school system which serves a public and secular purpose," the board said.

"We urge the governor and the Legislature to act now to solve the critical problem facing public and nonpublic education in Michigan."

Dry March Cuts Threat Of Floods

Record breaking dry weather coupled with below freezing temperatures at night have combined to reduce any threat of flooding in the Escanaba area.

The U. S. Weather Bureau, in its month-end report for March, pointed out today that during the period from Feb. 1 through March 19, a total of only .14 inch of precipitation was recorded.

Total for the entire month of March was .97 inch equated rain and snow.

Temperatures, meanwhile, crept above freezing for 19 of the 31 days of March and fell back below freezing on all nights but March 23, slowing the spring runoff.

Potential Exists

The U. S. Weather Bureau has predicted flooding through much of the Upper Midwest, but concern has been minimized for the central part of the Upper Peninsula because of the gradual thaw, the freezing nights and lack of additional snow or rain.

Fred Mueller, weather bureau meteorologist at Marquette, pointed out, however, that flood potential exists in the Upper Peninsula as there is still a considerable snow depth with a high water content in the woods.

"Unquestionably, streams will run high," he said, "but how high depends on the thaw."

In March in the Escanaba area, the thaw was favorable.

High temperature for the month was 47, reached March 19 and March 23, with the low of 4 recorded on March 11. There were nine days where temperatures climbed to 40 degrees or higher and also nine nights where the mercury fell to below 10 degrees.

Water High
According to the latest Michigan Water Resources summary prepared by the U. S. Dept. of Interior, Geological Survey, Water Resources Division, Lansing, ground-water levels continue at record high levels in the Upper Peninsula.

Larger streams in the Upper Peninsula still are ice covered, but smaller rivers, like the Days River between Gladstone and Rapid River, are open. Ice left the Days River Saturday.

Another factor reducing the threat of any serious flooding in the central Upper Peninsula is the lack of frost in the ground. Early winter snows covered the ground and stopped severe freezing.

With the thaw, a lot of the moisture is being directly absorbed into the ground.

GLADSTONE Young Wins Fourth Term

Incumbent George Young, 403 S. 17th St., won election to a fourth term on the City Commission of Gladstone in the annual municipal election Monday, but only by nine votes.

Douglas Bovin, 1607 Lake Shore Dr., was elected to fill the remaining one year of the term left vacant by the resignation of Frank Stupak last December.

In light voting, Young, a pulp mill foreman at the Escanaba Paper Co., defeated Henry VonBlaskewicz, 1611 Minneapolis Ave., by a 192 to 183 margin. Donald B. Anderson, 1011 Minnesota Ave., who also was seeking the three-year term polled 149 votes.

Bovin, running unopposed, received a total of 478 votes. A total of 551 votes were cast in the election and precinct workers indicated there were a number of write-in candidates.

The precinct totals:

Precinct 1 — Anderson 36, Young 51, VonBlaskewicz 37, Bovin 101; Precinct 2 — Anderson 42, Young 50; VonBlaskewicz 52, Brown 132; Precinct 3 — Anderson 49, Young 42, VonBlaskewicz 31, Bovin 115; Precinct 4 — Anderson 32, Young 49, VonBlaskewicz 63, Bovin 127.

Young's winning edge came from Precincts 1, where he led VonBlaskewicz by 14 votes, and Precinct 3, where he had an 11 vote advantage. VonBlaskewicz drew two more votes in Precinct 2 and 14 more votes in Precinct 4.

Marine Defects To Viet Cong

TOKYO (AP) — Hanoi's Vietnam News Agency reported today that a 19-year-old Marine, Pfc. John F. Lowney of Brooklyn, N.Y., defected to the Viet Cong on Feb. 22 because it said he opposed the war in Vietnam.

A statement attributed to Lowney said:

"I got upset with this war and opposed it because the big wigs in the White House and the Pentagon have been driving hundreds of thousands of American boys into the jungles and swamps of Vietnam when they have no knowledge and enthusiasm about getting killed for their ambitions."

Lowney's service number was given as "2467 056" and his date of birth as Aug. 13, 1949.

The statement said the war in Vietnam "is the dirtiest war in U.S. history. The U.S. troops are playing the same role as Nazi soldiers blindly obeying Hitler's orders. The U.S. troops, tanks and planes destroy the Vietnam crops, homes and killed women with their air raids."

UAW Takes Over Local, Orders End To Wildcat

DETROIT (AP) — Striking workers at Chrysler's big stamping plant in suburban Sterling today defied a back-to-work order from their International United Auto Workers Union leaders.

Most of the 1,700 workers on the first shift at the 4,000 man plant showed up at the plant gates but a Chrysler Corp. spokesman estimated that "only about 50" crossed the lines and went into the plant. No violence was reported.

The UAW's International Executive Board took control of the wildcat striking Local 1264 Monday and named Doug Fraser, UAW vice president and director of its Chrysler department, and Ken Morris, a regional UAW director, as administrators of the local.

Idled 30,000
The strike at the key plant, which manufactures body panels, so far has idled about 30,000 Chrysler employees in the U.S. and Canada. A Chrysler spokesman said 10,000 more might be sent home Wednesday at the Warren truck works and two New Jersey engine plants if the strike continues.

This appeared likely, as Charles Ferguson, a self-described picket leader, said "We're stronger now than ever before and we're not going back."

The Sterling employees were ordered back to work after the UAW's International Board was unable to persuade leaders of the local to return their members on their own initiative.

"Unsafe" Assignments
Fraser said "we had no choice" in making the unusual takeover. Chrysler repeatedly has said that no negotiations can take place until the men are returned to work.

Local officials said the walkout last Wednesday followed the imposition of an "unsafe" work assignment by Chrysler.

Calling the strike "illegal" and "unconstitutional," Fraser told a news conference it "is having a tragic impact on the Chrysler workers." It was only the second time in the past two years that the UAW has put a striking local under administration. The last was in Mansfield, Ohio, at a General Motors

Gene Calo, financial secretary-treasurer of Local 1264, said Monday he "would think" the workers will honor the back-to-work demand. "They know they're going to have to go back, whether today, tomorrow or the next day."

"Before the end of the week there will be 60,000 unemployed unless this strike ceases," Fraser said. He said the work stoppage jeopardized nearly all of Chrysler's 110,000 workers.

Fraser said that the Sterling walkout, which began last Wednesday when Chrysler suspended 12 local union officials in a dispute over safety conditions, was benefiting Chrysler Corp. and hurting the workers. The firm also suspended at least 30 other workers and reportedly took disciplinary action against some 27 arrested in plant gate incidents.

Unauthorized
Fraser explained that auto industry inventories are at extremely high levels. He said Chrysler had an 88-day supply of new cars in stock as of Feb. 28 and faced the prospect of laying off workers.

In event of a layoff by the firm, Fraser said, the workers would receive unemployment benefits totaling $9 million or $10 million a week—with each worker getting 95 per cent of cent of his regular week—pay minus $7.50.

Because the Sterling plant walkout was unauthorized by the international union, no strike benefits could be paid by the UAW and, Fraser said, it "is reducing the Chrysler Corp. inventory in such a fashion that it denies the workers benefits."

No Suspensions
A Chrysler spokesman said earlier that "we wouldn't be so anxious to get the men back to work if we were trying to cut down on inventory. In addition, many plants have been working overtime."

Chrysler spokesmen said the absence of body panels from the Sterling plant has idled more than 22,000 in the Detroit and Windsor, Ont., areas. A spokesman said workers at two Detroit-area engine plants would be sent home Tuesday if the walkout continued.

Fraser said that although the local is under administration, local president James Sexton and the unit's other officers were not being suspended or otherwise disciplined for the time being.

Fraser said Sexton, at the executive board meeting, "pledged to us his cooperation."

He said Chrysler had lifted its suspension of Sexton and the other 11 local officials and they could return to work Tuesday.

Mexico Begins Process To Pick Next President

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico has begun its unique process of picking its next president. It's a quiet and dignified maneuvering for position among top members of the party which has ruled the country for 40 years, the PRI.

Those are the Spanish initials for the Revolutionary Institutional party. Its candidate always wins.

None of the presumed contenders for the presidency has made an impassioned speech urging radical changes in government policy. It just isn't done.

A few magazines openly speculate on the running form of the various possibilities. But newspapers and broadcasters generally confine coverage to the overt activities of the politicians. Sometimes these activities are clues to the race.

End To Bossism

"We have ended bossism in the country," says Alfonso Martinez Dominguez, PRI president. "There is no more demagoguery and political filibustering." There is plenty of debate, however, in coffee shops, cocktail parties, lunches and other social gatherings on the merits of the contenders.

The two inside terms are "tapado," meaning the "covered one" to be announced by the PRI as its candidate next September, and "quemado," or "burned one," a contender who slipped out somehow.

The mystery of the guessing game seems to be enjoyed by the man in the street. It's been going on every six years since the various parties formed during the 1910 revolution decided to bury their differences and for PRI.

Friends
There are various clues: who is closest to incumbent President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz; who has demonstrated the most administrative ability; and who has the most political skill at avoiding damaging controversy.

"No one who ever took part in the actual selection of the next president has ever talked about it," says one Mexican political science professor. "So it isn't generally known how the 'tapado' is picked. But it is certain that the incumbent president has the most say."

When the man is named the real presidential campaign will be over except for the formality of the July 1970 elections.

However, the PRI candidate will give all appearances of running a race against candidates from minor parties, such as the National Action party (PAN).

No matter who is chosen, no major shifts are expected in a program of industrializing the country; of encouraging U.S. tourism to help finance that program; and of following a middle-of-the-road policy of social progress.

New Detroit Inc. To Investigate Church Shooting

DETROIT (AP)—New Detroit Inc. has promised to investigate charges by a top Republic of New Africa leader that police deliberately shot three of the four persons wounded in the New Bethel Church incident.

The church shooting broke out after a white policeman was gunned down outside just before midnight March 29.

Police, minutes later, stormed the church where a meeting of the black separatist group was ending and arrested over 100 persons. Police alleged the officer's assailants had sought refuge in the church.

The deliberate shooting charge was made in a letter from Republic of New Africa first vice president Milton Henry to New Detroit president William T. Patrick Jr.

Henry said none of the wounded had been wearing RNA uniforms — of the alleged killers of policeman Michael Czapski wore. He added in his letter that none were armed nor did they know of the shooting of the officer.

Patrick told a Monday news conference he feels Henry's charges are worthy of investigation. He said he is relaying to New Detroit's law committee.

He also announced that New Detroit is offering a $7,500 reward for the Czapski's killer, saying that the money is coming from anonymous sources.

Patrick also said a special telephone has been installed at New Detroit to take calls hopefully volunteering information on the officer's slaying. Information will be relayed immediately to Detroit police investigators.

Sealing Days Marking End To Trapping Season

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — "Beaver sealing day" comes Wednesday in most of the Lower Peninsula, marking the end of the trapping season and the sale of pelts harvested by the state's little army of fur trappers.

The sealing is required by the Department of Natural Resources and follows immediately each of the six seasons which vary area by area throughout the state.

Each area has its own dates and limits, aimed at harvesting surplus beaver without endangering the "seed stock" for next year.

What trappers will get for their leg-wrenching work depends upon what the buyers offer and the trappers can haggle, and there'll be much of this at the various "sealing days." The trappers don't have to sell then, some preferring to deal later or elsewhere, but most do.

Little Change

Beaver trapping is an avocation which has borne up since the first settlers came to Michigan, and even before that when the first settlers were fur-traders.

Trapping hasn't changed much since, either, in locations, techniques or tools, but the old snowshoes have given way to snowmobiles and pickup trucks.

Once there, however, the trapper still trudges the river banks, creek bottoms and swamplands on foot, encased in hip boots, lugging his axe and pack basket.

Trappers still use the common Victor pan-triggered traps which are wired and staked to the bottom so the beaver will be drowned quickly, but some with a more modern twist are using the Conibear trap which they call more humane.

The Conibear is a heavy-duty square rig hung in a beaver channel so the animal swims through it, touching a trigger which clamps the heavy trap jaws to its neck, killing it instantly.

But no matter what the tools, beaver trapping is hard work, both in the setting and checking of traplines, always in rough going, and the skinning and stretching of pelts taken.

Win On Ticket Opposing Busing

By The Associated Press

Three men who oppose the busing of inner-city youths to Grand Rapids Union High School were among four persons elected to the school board in the state's second largest city.

Around the state, voters approved about half of the measures calling for new taxes for school districts.

Grand Rapids voters even turned out of office the school board president, David Post, who was a proponent of the school district's master plan, which calls for busing of students.

There have been a number of racial incidents at Grand Rapids Union High School since last fall, when the busing began.

The three men from the Union High School area named to the board were Jack Boonstra, Everett Van Slyke and Lawrence Pojeski. Their views on the master plan will constitute a minority on the nine-member board.

Also elected was Rosemary Allen, who has favored the master plan.

After his defeat, Post said he believes the election is only a temporary setback for the school master plan. He said once the three men get into the job, they will find the plan is basically sound.

School superintendent Norman Weinheimer said he hopes to be able to work with the three new members.

New Managers Lose Opening Day Tilts

By The Associated Press
Professional baseball's second century got under way Monday and for Ted Williams and Clyde King, two of the sport's new managers, the next 100 years can only get better.

Williams' Washington Senators were bombed 8-4 by the New York Yankees in the presidential opener in Washington. King's debut was two outs from becoming a success when the Atlanta Braves pushed across two runs in the bottom of the ninth and nipped the San Francisco Giants 5-4.

The Cincinnati Reds, descendants of the first pro baseball team back in 1869, dropped their traditional home opener 3-2 to Los Angeles.

Games Today

The remaining 18 teams, including expansionists Montreal and San Diego in the National League and Kansas City and Seattle in the American, swing into action today.

The NL schedule finds Philadelphia at Chicago and Montreal at New York in the afternoon with Pittsburgh at St. Louis, Houston at San Diego and San Francisco at Atlanta under the lights.

In the AL, it's Cleveland at Detroit, Boston at Baltimore and Minnesota at Kansas City during the day, followed by Chicago at Oakland and Seattle at California at night.

Break Fast

The Senators got off fast when it didn't count before 45,113, largest opening day crowd ever in the nation's capital. Hank Allen snared the first ball thrown out by President Richard M. Nixon and two subsequent tosses went to Washington coach Joe Camacho and Allen again.

Then the game began and the Senators soon were back in the familiar surroundings of last place—but this time last was only sixth in the AL's Eastern Division as the two circuits began divisional play.

The Yankees unveiled their new running game in the second inning as Roy White stole two bases and Bill Robinson one and Tom Tresh and Jake Gibbs delivered them with singles. A touch of the old Yankee power was evident in the third when Jerry Kenney and Bobby Murcer walloped consecutive home runs.

Howard Homers

Four unearned runs in the fourth wrapped it up as Mel Stottlemyre staggered to a 14-hit complete game, including a two-run homer in the ninth by Frank Howard, the majors' 1968 leader.

Comedy Cagers Slated Friday

GLADSTONE — Basketball's internationally famous Harlem Diplomats will play at the Gladstone High School gymnasium Friday, April 11, at 8 p.m.

The Diplomats, who are rapidly becoming world renowned, recently played in Mexico, Jamaica, Nassau, Brazil and Venezuela, where they were labeled the "funniest team ever."

The team features an array of basketball comedians, led by hilarious Goose Tatum Jr. and ably supported by jumping Charlie Cook and Ed (Dizzy) Parker.

The Diplomats will present basketball's most spectacular magic circle, parts of which are done in darkness. The only visible objects are the players' shoes and a glowing basketball.

The team is believed to have the greatest group of razzle-dazzle ball handlers ever assembled and the game promises to be one of fine basketball mixed with delightful comedy.

The event will be sponsored by the students of Gladstone High School to help defray the expense of the school's videotape machine.

A preliminary game between the G.A.A. Basketball Champions and the Community School All-Stars, who will wear boxing gloves, will get underway at 6:45 p.m.

"It's only one game," said Williams. "I was glad the President was here. We need all the help we can get." Then he summed up his feelings in one word—"Lousy!"

The President, though, proved to be a prophet. "He kept telling us to watch out for Howard in the bottom of the ninth," said Commissioner Bowie Kuhn. "The President kept predicting Howard would hit a home run."

Honor Mantle

It was the first time in 19 seasons the Yankees were without Mickey Mantle on the roster and the Washington scoreboard flashed the following message: "Hello, Mickey Mantle, wherever you are."

"He's fishing, somewhere off Acapulco, I think," said Phil Rizzuto, a Yankee broadcaster.

It was a bitter Georgia homecoming for San Francisco's King, who managed the Atlanta Crackers to the Southern Association pennant in 1956.

Trailing 3-1, the Giants routed Pat Jarvis in the seventh, scoring three times on a double by Bobby Etheridge, singles by Hal Lanier, pinch hitter Bob Burda and Willie Mays, a walk to Bobby Bonds and Willie McCovey's sacrifice fly.

Win In Ninth

That took 26-game winner Juan Marichal off the hook. But the Braves pulled it out against Frank Linzy when Cleto Boyer opened the ninth with a single and, one out later, scored on Sonny Jackson's triple. Mike Lum then singled Jackson home with the winner.

Dick Dietz homered for the Giants.

Don Drysdale withstood home runs by the first two batters he faced and settled down to pitch the Dodgers past Cincinnati. The tall right-hander's arm stiffened after six innings and Bill Singer finished up with hitless ball.

"I tell you, they kind of opened my eyes a little bit," Drysdale said after Pete Rose and Bobby Tolan clipped him for opening homers. But Tom Haller's single and Jim LeFebvre's single got one run back in the second and the Dodgers won it against Gary Nolan in the third on singles by Willie Crawford and Len Gabrielson and Ron Fairly's two-run triple.

Sore-Shouldered McLain Selected To Open Season

DETROIT (AP)—Denny McLain, his shoulder shot full of pain-killing cortisone, was Manager Mayo Smith's choice to hurl for the World Champion Detroit Tigers today in the season opener against the Cleveland Indians.

McLain faced Luis Tiant, who has been a tough customer in the past. In their only meeting last year, Tiant blanked the 31-game winner 2-0.

But the Tigers ace said he was not upset by the prospect of starting the 1969 baseball season off against Tiant.

"I can't worry about him," said McLain. "It's the other eight guys in the lineup that are my biggest concern."

The decision to start Denny—World Series hero Mickey Lolich—had been waiting in the wings—was made Monday after manager Smith took a look at the sore-shouldered hurler in a warm up.

"The shoulder feels better than it has at any time," McLain said, before Smith had a chance to tell newsmen his mind was made up. "I'm ready to go as soon as the man says so."

Today is the first home opener for McLain, who hurled the opener in 1967 at Anaheim, Calif. For awhile, it looked as though McLain would not make it.

He had to fly home Thursday after his shoulder tightened up on him during his final exhibition appearance, but the cortisone shot seems to have put off the pain.

"It looks as if six or seven of those shots will get me through the season," McLain said.

McLain wasn't the only sore-muscle man Mayo considered a question mark. There was also Mickey Stanley, who, like McLain has been plagued by a sore shoulder all spring long.

John Wyatt Signs Athletic Contract

OAKLAND (AP)—The Oakland Athletics announced Monday the signing of right-handed pitcher John Wyatt, who earlier this spring was released by the Detroit Tigers.

Wyatt, who will join the club in time for Tuesday's opening game, appeared in 37 games for the Tigers last year, winning two, losing four and posting a 2.76 earned-run average.

The 31-year-old Wyatt, with the Athletics from 1961-66, set a record by pitching in 81 games in 1964.

The Athletics were expected to assign pitcher Robert Rodriguez to a minor league roster to make room for Wyatt.

On The Sidelines With Mike Utt

Today is the second day of the Major League baseball season and although six teams opened yesterday, the 18 other clubs open their campaigns today. Four new teams, five new managers and a new commissioner should make the 1969 season rather interesting and the division playoffs at the end of the season will make the season even more exciting. Let's see how things could shape up next October:

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Eastern Division — The toughest of the two American League divisions with Detroit, Boston, Baltimore, New York, Cleveland and Washington all battling for a playoff berth. With a good year from Denny McLain on the mound and a solid performance by Mickey Stanley at shortstop, the Tigers should repeat as American League champions. Boston will give the Tigers the toughest run for the money if Tony Conigliaro lives up to past seasons after coming back from an eye injury. New York and Baltimore were the two best teams in the division during spring training and could also be in the picture while Cleveland and Washington don't look like pennant winners this season. Prediction—Detroit.

Western Division — Appears to be a contest between Minnesota, Chicago and Oakland for the title, while California, Kansas City and Seattle fight it out for the bottom three places. The twins appear to have the best pennant material with the pitching of Dean Chance and Dave Boswell and the hitting of Harmon Killebrew, Tony Oliva and Bob Allison. Their defense is sound with the likes of Rod Carew and Cesar Tovar in the infield and Ted Uehlander in the Outfield. Oakland needs strong performances from youngsters Rick Monday, Sal Bando and Jim "Catfish" Hunter. The Athletics are the youngest team in baseball and may be a year away from glory. The White Sox finished in first place during the exhibition season but don't have enough depth to take the crown. Prediction — Minnesota.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Eastern Division — St. Louis should sew up its third straight National League crown without too much difficulty here, but the Chicago Cubs could give them a battle if the youngsters pan out. The Cardinals lost only one player from last year's team, Roger Maris, but he was easily replaced with the acquisition of Vada Pinson from Cincinnati. Atlanta -exile Joe Torre will also give the cards another big bat in the lineup and of course they still have Bob Gibson. The Cubs appear to be a year from the title right now. Ken Holtzman and Ferguson Jenkins give the Cubs good front-line pitchers but more depth is needed. Pittsburgh was hit hard in the draft and Philadelphia has trouble all over the place. The Mets could move up a notch and the expansion Montreal Expos will more than likely bring up the rear. Prediction — St. Louis.

Western Division — Looks like a tough race between San Francisco, Atlanta, Cincinnati and Los Angeles but the Giants should break out of the shadow of the Cardinals and win the title. The Giants are sound offensively, defensively and in the pitching department and they still have Willie Mays. The acquisition of Orlando Cepeda could help the Braves but their infield appears to be unsettled. Cincinnati needs pitching help and Los Angeles needs more offensive power to score runs. The loss of Rusty Staub and Don Clendenon will not help Houston and the expansion San Diego Padres can hardly be classified as pennant contenders. Prediction — San Francisco.

PLAYOFFS

Detroit and St. Louis should meet in a rematch of the 1968 World Series. They both are strong in all departments and have veteran players back at most positions. Denny McLain and Mickey Stanley are definite questions for the Tigers, McLain with his injured shoulder and Stanley at shortstop, although he did show he could handle the position during the '68 series. Torre gives the Cardinals the best backup catcher in baseball and will also give a big lift at first base.

Celtics Get Surprise; Select White In Draft

NEW YORK (AP) — The flip side of the coin for the Phoenix Suns turned out to be Neal Walk of Florida.

The surprise in a delayed Easter basket for the Boston Celtics turned out to be Jo Jo White of Kansas.

That's the way it went Monday as the National Basketball Association ran through the first two rounds of its draft of college seniors in fast-break style.

It took the 14 clubs just 22 minutes to select 29 players in the telephone draft session in the offices of Commissioner J. Walter Kennedy. The draft will be completed in New York May 7.

Phoenix, which lost a coin toss to Milwaukee for the right to pick first, chose the 6-foot-10 Walk just moments after Milwaukee had selected Lew Alcindor.

The drafting of Alcindor by Milwaukee—the last-place finisher in the Eastern Division as Phoenix was in the Western—was a mere formality because the Bucks had signed the 7-1½ UCLA All-American last week for a reported $1.4 million package.

The Celtics, who picked ninth in the first round, had expected White to be gone by the time their turn came. But he wasn't and so the 6-3 Olympian became a Celtic.

Joining Alcindor and Walk, who was also the No. 2 pick in the rival American Basketball Association, were Lucious Allen, by Seattle; Terry Driscoll of Boston College, by Detroit; and Larry Cannon of La Salle, by Chicago.

The 6-2 Allen was a teammate of Alcindor's for two seasons

Imlach Offered Coaching Posts

TORONTO (AP)—George "Punch" Imlach, fired Sunday night as general manager-coach of the Toronto Maple Leafs, reportedly was being courted by at least two National Hockey League expansion clubs Monday while a pair of stand-out players during his turbulent 11-year Toronto reign hung up their skates.

The Minnesota North Stars reportedly offered Imlach the coaching job currently held by general manager Wren Blair and the Pittsburgh Penguins also were rumored interested in the 51-year-old NHL executive.

as a coaching replacement for George "Red" Sullivan, fired last month.

Toronto has named John McLellan, coach of its Tulsa farm club in the Central League, and scout Jim Gregory to replace Imlach as coach and general manager, respectively.

Meanwhile, goalie Johnny Bower, 44, and defenseman Tim Horton, 39, who helped Imlach's Leafs capture the Stanley Cup four times and reach the post-season playoffs in all but one season under his direction, announced their retirement.

Several other aging members of the one-time Imlach dynasty — including team captain George Armstrong — were expected to call it quits following the club's collapse against the Bruins and Imlach's ouster.

Horton said Imlach's release figured in their decisions to retire.

"I'm very sorry for Punch," said Bower. "I owe him a lot. He brought me to Toronto and he put money in my pocket—in a lot of pockets I guess. He's been good to me and I'm sorry to have this happen to him."

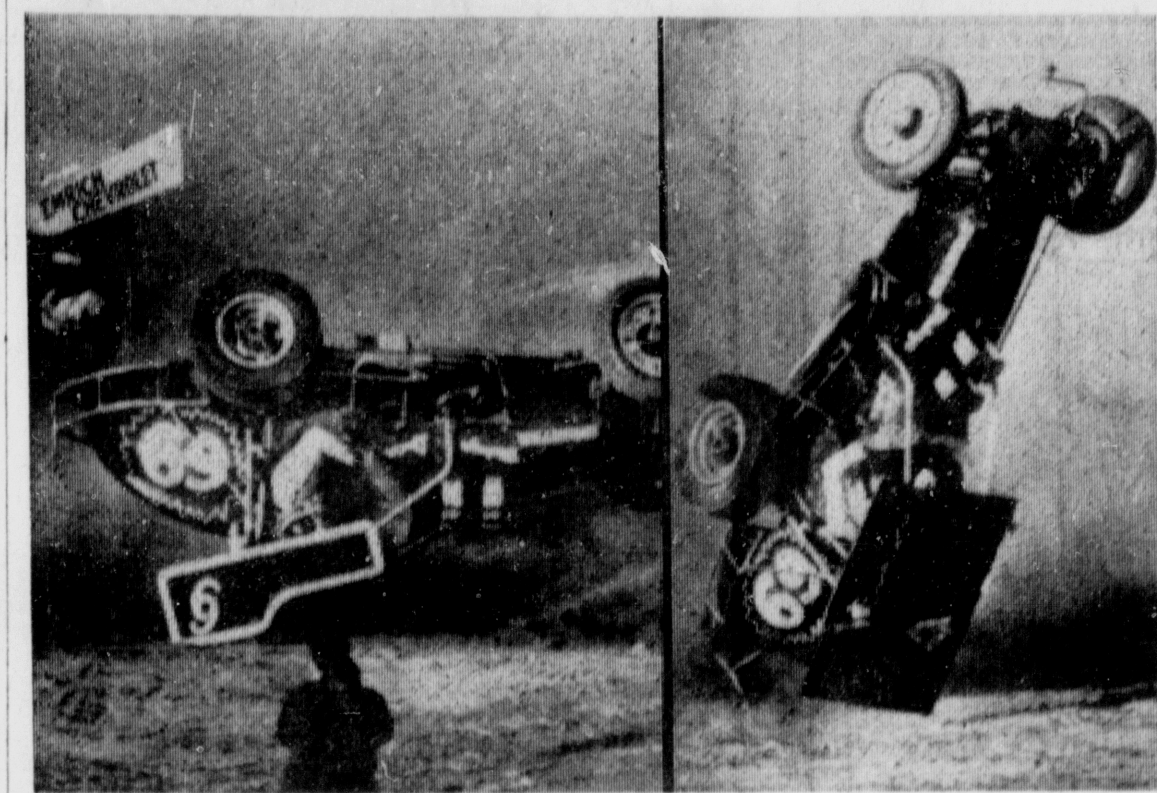

"He was a great guy to play for," said Horton. "I had my fights with him, mostly when I did something wrong, but five minutes later it was all forgotten. That's the type of people I like."

Home Town Fans To Fete Ronzani

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich. (AP)—Gene Ronzani Day will be held in Iron Mountain May 10 to honor the native of this upper Michigan community who once was head coach of the Green Bay Packers.

Ronzani underwent open heart surgery last fall and now makes his home in Milwaukee.

Ronzani starred in football at Marquette University and played with the Chicago Bears of the National Football League. He succeeded the late Curly Lambeau as head coach of the Packers.

OVER AND UP — Gus Linder of Pittsburgh, Pa., hangs on as his super-sprint racing car rolls over and stands up on end during the 25-lap feature at the Hagerstown, Md., raceway Sunday. In trying to avoid a pileup, Linder drove his car into the infield and rolled over. He was not injured. (AP Wirephoto).

Trevino Among Favorites To Snare Master's Crown

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Flamboyant Lee Trevino, the merry Mexican who, in little more than a year, has captured the fancy of golfdom's common man, ranks as a solid threat to add a green Master's jacket to his United States Open title.

"I'm playing real well," the swarthy, grinning guy from West Texas' desolate border country said after a practice round Monday.

"Except last week. I just couldn't get started. I didn't really like the course, I guess. But mostly I was thinking about this one. Just kept thinking about this one."

Trevino, unknown this time two years ago but now one of the leading money winners, will be among the elite field of 83 of the world's best shot-makers who tee off in Thursday's first round over the lushly green, rolling acres of the 6,980-yard, par 72 Augusta National Course.

"I've only had 27 holes of practice," Trevino said. "But I like this course."

"And I'm playing for this course. I'm getting it up in the air. I don't know what it is, but it's up there. 'Way up there. I just can't believe it.'"

The ex-Marine and one-time $35-a-week assistant pro bolted into the front rank of golf's elite when he won the U.S. Open at Rochester, N.Y., last year with his peculiar tight, flat swing, a swing he recognizes breaks the teaching rules but one he calls "just right for a little flat guy."

Trevino, who missed the National Airlines Tournament in Miami two weeks ago because of jammed left thumb, said his injury is "okay now. No trouble," and he wiggled the thumb to demonstrate.

But some of the other top choices to succeed star-crossed Bob Goaly as the 33rd Masters' champ are less than well. Miller Barber, the pick of Trevino and South Africa's Gary Player as the man most likely to succeed, also has a jammed thumb but is playing.

Arnold Palmer, a four-time champion but now struggling, still is bothered by an ailing back, even though he shot a fantastic 63 in a practice round late last week. Flashy Doug Sanders has a similar complaint. Billy Casper, a two-time Open champ, still is suffering from allergies.

Among the healthy leading contenders are Player, the reigning British Open champion, Gene Littler, winner of Sunday's playoff for the Greater Greensboro title and the leading money winner this year, and always dangerous Jack Nicklaus.

And, too, there's Goaly, who hasn't done much of anything since he won last year's Masters on a slip of the pen. And the gentle, gentlemanly Roberto de Vicenzo, who signed away a chance for a tie when he photographed an incorrect scorecard.

Hawks Capture Last NBA Playoff Berth

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The Atlanta Hawks, outshot and out-rebounded by the young San Diego Rockets, were not outscrambled.

Their 108-106 victory Monday night put the Hawks into the National Basketball Association's Western Division playoff finals with the Los Angeles Lakers.

Atlanta, beating San Diego 4-2 in their series, meets the Lakers in the first game of the best-of-7 series Wednesday night at Los Angeles.

In the Eastern Division finals, Boston leads the New York 1-0. The Celtics entertain the Knicks Wednesday night.

No games are scheduled tonight.

Atlanta trailed by 19 points in the third quarter but the Hawks began picking up loose balls, and intercepting passes. They went ahead by eight points, 98-90, with 4:57 to play on the shooting of Lou Hudson, Bill Bridges and Walt Lazzard.

"We simply turned the ball over too many times and lost momentum," said Rocket coach Jack McMahon. "When Hayes missed that dunk shot in the third period, I almost fell off the bench. I think that's when the momentum changed."

Hayes, who scored 26 points, went up to stuff the ball with both hands but it hit the back of the rim and bounced off.

"We shot real well but didn't get enough shots up," said McMahon, whose team, led by Don Kojis, hit a sizzling 62 per cent from the floor in the first half of play.

Kojis hit 11 of 15 in the first half scoring 23 points but was held to three points after intermission and fouled out with 1:52 left to play.

The Rockets had more field goals, 44-41, and more rebounds, 50-47, but converted only 18 of 33 free throw attempts while the Hawks made 26 of 45.

Atlanta coach Richie Guerin said the Hawks could not afford to look beyond the Rockets to the Lakers.

"We looked ahead to the Lakers last year and got knocked off by San Francisco," he said. "This was a tough series. San Diego has nothing to be ashamed of; the Rockets played a fine game."

Hudson led all scorers with 27 points, while Bridges added 24 for the Hawks.

Don Ohl of the Hawks said after the game the Lakers are "a great basketball team—it depends on what Wilt Chamberlain does" how Atlanta fares in the Western finals.

The Rockets played without forward John Bloc, who had averaged 12 points in the series before breaking his wrist in Sunday's loss in Atlanta.

It was largely the play of Chamberlain that allowed the Lakers to blitz San Francisco in four straight after opening their semi-final series with two losses to the Warriors in Los Angeles.

"I don't want to make excuses, but we did miss Block," McMahon said.

The fourth place finish by the Rockets this year was a far cry from their first season in the NBA. San Diego won only 15 of their 82 efforts in the 1967-68 season for last place in the West.

School Buses Get Safety Test

EAST LANSING (AP) — State Police report about 65 per cent of Michigan's 9,000 public school buses received a clean bill of health on the department's annual safety check just completed.

The percentage represented about 5,800 buses with no apparent defects.

It took State Police three months to check the buses in Michigan's 534 public school districts.

Among the most frequent defects uncovered were inoperative windshield wipers and washers, lights, exhaust systems and parking brakes.

Other items inspected included glass areas, horns, steering gear, tires, mirrors, reflectors, fuel tanks, defrosters, service and emergency doors, fire extinguishers, flares, bumpers, body condition, heaters, first aid kits, seats and steps.

School districts in Ann Arbor and Pontiac, meanwhile said they have been unable to have potentially defective brake systems replaced on General Motors buses because of parts shortages.

GM mailed out certified letters March 31 telling the bus owners to check with dealers for replacement of brake system seals.

About 475 Michigan school buses were affected by a nationwide GM recall of more than 1.1 million vehicles.

According to the American Cancer Society 200,000 Americans will be saved from cancer this year. Support the Cancer Crusade.

Griffin Named Top Newsmaker

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., the man instrumental in blocking senate confirmation of Associate Justice Abe Fortas as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, has been named Newsmaker of the Year by the Michigan Associated Press Broadcasters Association (MAPBA).

Griffin will receive his award from Gov. William Milliken at the MAPBA Awards Banquet in Lansing April 15.

Griffin was the Senate leader in the filibuster against Fortas' confirmation which forced the eventual withdrawal of the nomination by former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

"A freshman Senator, mustering enough support in a Democratic Senate to halt a major nomination by a Democratic president must rank among the year's top news stories," said Philip Nye, president of the MAPBA wire study committee which made the selection.

Annual Banquet

In addition to the "newsmaker of the year" award to be presented to Griffin, Gov. Milliken also will present awards to Michigan broadcast stations at the annual banquet sponsored by the Associated Press.

The Associated Press, a non-profit, news disseminating organization owned by its more than 4,200 newspaper and broadcast members, is also sponsoring a news seminar in conjunction with the awards banquet.

The day-long seminar is open to all working newsmen in broadcast stations throughout the state who are members of AP.

Wald Keynote

The seminar will feature presentations by Col. Frederick Davids, director of the Michigan State Police, Dr. Thomas Baldwin of Michigan State University, and Frank Seymour, president of Frank Seymour Associates in Detroit and former General Manager of WCHB, Inkster.

Keynote speaker at the awards banquet will be Richard Wald, vice president of NBC News, New York.

Plans for the banquet and seminar were announced by MAPBA President William Dempsey, general manager of WZZM-TV in Grand Rapids and MAPBA Vice President Ted Baughn, owner and general manager of WPAG in Ann Arbor.

Plane Strikes Power Line

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A 39-year-old man was killed Monday when his single-engine airplane struck a power line and crashed south of the Kent County airport.

The victim was identified as Ralph Tounsant Jr. of southeast Kent County. He was attempting to land at the time.

New Airlines At Traverse City

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Two new airlines will begin serving the Grand Traverse area this summer.

The Traverse City city commission Monday night approved applications by Trans-Michigan Airlines of Flushing and Air-Michigan Inc. of Kalamazoo to begin serving the Traverse City area.

Demos In Power In Ann Arbor

By The Associated Press
Democrats are in power in Ann Arbor for the first time since the 1930s. Lansing Mayor Max Murnighan lost a re-election bid. Flint voters rejected a major urban renewal project. And Grosse Pointe Farms turned down a fair housing proposal.

These are among highlights in Monday's election in Michigan cities and municipalities in which many issues and incumbents found rough sledding.

At Ann Arbor, Democrat Robert Harris defeated Republican Richard Balzhiser by about 100 votes in some 10,000 cast in unofficial returns. Taking city council seats were Democrats H. C. Curry, Robert Faber, Nicholas Kazarianoff and Henry Stadler and Republican Roy Webber.

Harris, who like his opponent is a University of Michigan professor, become the first Democrat mayor in 12 years. But the city council was in the hands of Democrats for the first time since the Depression.

Reject Bond Issue

Gerald W. Graves, Lansing city treasurer since October 1961, unseated Mayor Max E. Murnighan in complete but unofficial returns, 12,484-12,265.

Murnighan, who trailed Graves in an earlier primary, said it was "too early to tell" if he would demand a recount.

Graves had accused the city administration with misconduct.

At Flint, voters rejected a $5 million urban renewal bond issue that would have secured $35 million in federal funds along with money from other sources for a total of $62 million. Unofficial returns gathered by radio station WFDF, showed it was downed 17,303-6,589.

If approved, it would have been the first major urban renewal project in Flint. It called for correcting blight conditions, code enforcement, grants and loans to property owners for improvements, clearing property, and developing industrial parks.

Not Enough Money

Observers said reasons for the defeat may have been a campaign by some persons who felt they would not get enough money for their property and the fact of a disturbance at a Flint school last week in which 19 were arrested.

Flint voters also turned down proposals for a charter revision commission, a charter amendment raising the pay of city commissioners from $10 to $20 per meeting, and for a board of review to study board of supervisors realigning.

Newspaper Want Ads are a big sell! One billion, twenty-one million was spent on classified ads last year . . . more than for all magazine advertising combined and more than 300 million more than radio advertising.
